

July 29, 2016

Mr. Tom Gray
SKC, Inc.
1000 SKC Drive
Covington GA 30014

RE: CRITICAL GUIDANCE LOGO USE

Dear Mr. Gray:

The Association of Plastic Recyclers (APR), is pleased to recognize the SKC as meeting or exceeding voluntary APR Design® Critical Guidance Document criteria. These criteria promote plastic recycling, and we want to extend our appreciation for considering them in designing your product.

Specifically, SKC Incorporated has demonstrated that your SKC Ecolabel™ film used with MCC DNX53™ inks meets the Critical Guidance criteria for APR's Sleeve Label for PET Bottles Critical Guidance Document.

On this basis, APR offers SKC Incorporated a limited, non-exclusive, revocable, and non-transferable license to use the APR Meets Critical Guidance logo displayed below (the "Logo") in advertising, promotions, and sales literature. The logo is not to be used on packaging. The Logo is owned by APR and there is no fee due for its use by SKC Incorporated because of our recognition of your petition. To use the Logo, insert the statement below, and choose one of the two APR logo options.

SKC Ecolabel™ film used with MCC DNX53™ inks
Meets Critical Guidance from

Or

SKC Ecolabel™ film used with MCC DNX53™ inks
Meets Critical Guidance from

The Association of Plastic Recyclers

In addition, enclosed are the APR's Trademark Use Guidelines for using the Logo. As a condition for using the Logo, you need to countersign this letter where indicated below to acknowledge that you have read and agree with the APR Trademark Use Guidelines, and return the letter to me.

Yours truly,

Stephen Alexander
APR Executive Director

ACKNOWLEDGED AND AGREED:

Signature: _____

Name:

Title: